Objectives

Develop and deliver a one-day team building session for 50 people based on the Insights Discovery profile tools to achieve specific objectives;

- ➔ Enable each individual to understand their own personality preferences
- ➔ Learn how to adjust their behaviour to develop effective working relationships
- ➔ Understand how their behaviour in a team is perceived by others
- ➔ Identify the strengths they bring to a team and areas of possible weakness
- ➔ Provide the foundations to develop an effective team working culture
- ➔ Have fun and get to know other team members

Outcome

The day was designed to be highly interactive to ensure a consistently high level of participation. This included serious exercise interspersed with fun activities that worked really well to build team spirit.

The group were a pleasure to work with, we all had fun but more importantly Axa achieved all their objectives.

Kitty Dean, Business Change Director at AXA Personal Lines said;

“It was an excellent session that exceeded my expectations and surpassed previous experiences with other providers.

It was engaging, fun, and the team have continued to use Insights for building effective working relationships.

We look forward to working with Ithaka in the future”
